

KZN MANAGED FUND

FEBRUARY 2023

The KZN Managed Fund is a moderately aggressive fund that aims to achieve above average returns over the longer term.

The fund can invest across all local and foreign asset classes. The fund makes use of a blend of three good quality asset managers who have been given fully discretionary global balanced mandates. These asset managers have the freedom to select the allocation to each of these asset classes and the most attractive securities to invest in within each asset class. A portion of the fund is managed on a strategic asset allocation basis, where the long term allocation between the various asset classes have been set, taking into account the fund's long term aim. Specialist asset managers have been appointed to manage each of the asset classes and have the freedom to select the most attractive securities to invest in within each asset class.

Due to its relatively high allocation to growth assets (such as local and foreign shares and private equity), the fund has a high chance of capital loss in the short term, but is expected to achieve real growth of capital over the long-term. As a result, the fund is best suited to members who have a longer term (5 years or more) investment horizon.

The portfolio complies with the prudential investment guidelines set out in Regulation 28 of the Pensions Funds Act.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

After January's euphoric performance, markets in February digested the moves and contemplated the array of risks faced by the global economy despite more stable demand. Through February, we continued to monitor three key global macro risks: the prospect of US inflation staying higher for longer, forcing the US Federal Reserve (Fed) to push the economy into a deep recession; the expanding impact of the Russia/Ukraine war on global markets via energy costs; and the lapse of judgement that sparked a geopolitical incident between China and the US. February brought no significant news on any of these risks, however: US inflation was only a little higher than expected, Russian forces made incremental progress in their assault on the Ukrainian city of Bakhmut and nothing emerged from the US and China's balloon races. In fact, most of the news in February was local, with the State of the Nation Address, Budget and grey listing updates reflecting in the rand's significant weakening over the month.

Looking forward, the February Market Purchasing Manager Index (PMI) surveys further evidenced a sustained rebalancing of the global economy as services continued to rebound and manufacturing remained in contraction. Barring any surprises from geopolitics, the main risk to the global economy is from central banks (mostly the Fed) pushing the world into recession with overaggressive monetary policy. This will generally only happen against the backdrop of a strong economy (underpinned by strong corporate earnings) or if inflation expectations become unanchored and start to rise. Current forecasts suggest the contrary: a weak US economy with weak earnings and stable inflation expectations. We therefore expect to see moderated policy conviction in the nearer term at least, which will only change if a combination of strong economic data and a reacceleration of inflation reignites the Fed's rate-hike resolve. While a US recession is likely, we still only see its emergence as probable in Q4 2023 or early in 2024. US resilience will probably lead to near-term strength in the dollar, supported by trends in two-year interest rate differentials. Longer term, the dollar remains expensive on a purchasing power parity basis and should depreciate. We have put additional protection measures in place in expectation of heightened volatility into the second quarter.

The FTSE/JSE CAPPED SWIX Index dropped by 2.3%, Industrials were up 1.7% and Financials increased by 2.5%. The JSE All Bond Index fell by 0.9%, while the rand depreciated by 5.3% relative to the US dollar.
